Argus Media Workshop – Generation fuels training programme

Course date	To be confirmed (3 Days)
Location	Singapore
Overview	The course covers the most dominant generation fuel, coal, its cleaner-burning challenger, natural gas, and the up-and-coming renewable baseload fuel, biomass. Course participants will gain insights into the market fundamentals for these three generation fuels, drivers of price formation, outlook for both prices and fundamentals, and the interplay of policy and regulations on the industry's outlook.
Course Objective	How Does This Workshop Benefit You? <ul style="list-style-type: none">• Understand gen-fuels demand drivers, including economics, energy security objectives and environmental considerations.• Develop an understanding of the drivers of market prices and impact of the interaction of prices of the three generation fuels.• Recognise factors in the near term that will impact procurement strategies.
Trainer Profile	Neil is a principal consultant based in our Singapore office and focuses on generation fuels markets. He has undertaken several thermal coal, natural gas and biomass projects, providing clients with price benchmarking and valuation assessments, analyses of market fundamentals, regulatory and policy analyses, pre-feasibility analyses, fuel procurement risk assessments and energy price forecasts. He has considerable experience running training programmes and currently serves as an adjunct professor at the Ulsan National Institute of Science and Technology (Unist), where he teaches a graduate course on generation fuels. Prior to joining Argus, Neil worked as an energy economist for a leading energy policy institute in Singapore and led several consulting projects for multi-lateral agencies such as the Asia-Pacific Economic Cooperation (Apec). He also worked as a power plant engineer at a multifuel-fired facility. Neil holds a doctoral degree in energy economics, a masters in energy economics and policy, and an undergraduate degree in mechanical engineering.
Who would benefit from this programme	This workshop, which covers the gamut of generation fuels, is developed and designed to provide market analysis and context for individuals participating in gen-fuels markets. This includes, but is not limited to, those working in utilities and upstream companies, miners and market analysts at trading firms.

Terms and Conditions – Argus Workshops

- Agreement
- These “Terms and Conditions” set out the contract between Argus Media Singapore Group Pte Ltd (“Argus”) and the “Company” specified in the “Registration Form” submitted by you regarding the attendance by the Company’s specified representatives (“Attendees”) at the workshop specified in the Registration Form (the “Workshop”). The expressions “we”, “us” and “our” refer to Argus and “you” and “your” refer to the Company.
- These Terms and Conditions, the Registration Form and any confirmation email and invoice sent by Argus set out the entire agreement between you and us in relation to the Workshop. In the event of any conflict, the Terms and Conditions shall prevail.
- You personally warrant and represent that you have all necessary authority to enter into and to perform your obligations under this Agreement on behalf of the Company. You undertake on behalf of yourself and the Company that you, the Company and the Attendees will observe and comply with this Agreement. By submitting the Registration Form, you agree to be bound by this Agreement, which shall only become fully effective and binding when we issue an invoice.
- Workshop attendance and Workshop Materials
- Subject to availability and provided Argus has received payment in full of the Fees, Argus invites the Attendees to: (a) attend the Workshop; and (b) use the content presented and materials made available by us at the Workshop (the “Workshop Materials”) for the purpose of supporting their attendance at the Workshop.
- You acknowledge and agree to comply, and procure the compliance of the Attendees, with all applicable laws, regulations and requirements (including without limitation health and safety requirements) in respect of the Workshop. We reserve the right to refuse admission/eject any Attendee without liability to/from a Workshop for any reason.
- Argus reserves the right in its sole discretion to make reasonable changes to the content, presenters, location, and/or timing of the Workshop without liability. Argus shall use reasonable endeavors to notify you of any Workshop changes by no later than when it notifies other Workshop attendees.
- All Workshop Materials are provided to you on an “as is” basis and we give no warranties, representations or guarantees that the Workshop Materials are in sequence, accurate, up-to-date or complete or that use of them will meet the particular requirements of the Attendees. Reliance and use of the Workshop Materials is entirely at your and each Attendee’s risk.
- You acknowledge and agree that, unless otherwise expressly stated, we own all intellectual property and other rights in all Workshop Materials. You shall not, and shall procure that the Attendees shall not, disclose, distribute or use the Workshop Materials other than as expressly permitted in clause 2.1.
- Fees
- Argus shall be entitled to submit an invoice for the registration fee together with all applicable taxes (including without limitation sales tax) for the attendance by the Attendees at the Workshop (the “Fee”) upon receipt of a Registration Form from you. The Fees are not refundable in whole or in part other than as expressly set out at clauses 4.1 and 4.2.
- You shall pay the Fee in full without deduction or set-off: (i) within 30 days of the date of the invoice; or (ii) by the first day of the Workshop, whichever is earlier.
- Without prejudice to any other remedy that may be available to Argus, Argus shall be entitled to charge interest of 2% above the National Westminster Bank base rate in force at the relevant time in respect of any overdue payment.
- Cancellations, Substitutions and Termination
- If one or more Attendees is unable to attend the Workshop: (a) you may cancel their registration and Argus will refund the applicable Fees for the Attendee(s) (less a 15% administration charge) provided Argus receives notification of such cancellation by email sent to the Argus email address on the Registration Form at least 14 days prior to the Workshop (no refund will be given for cancellations notified less than 14 days prior to the Workshop for any reason); or (b) a substitute attendee may attend in place of the Attendee so long as Argus is notified in advance of the Workshop.
- If the minimum number of attendees required by Argus for the Workshop have not registered for the Workshop by the date seven (7) days prior to the Workshop, Argus reserves the right to cancel the Workshop by notifying you via email. It will be your responsibility to notify Attendees.
- If the Workshop is cancelled for the reason set out in 4.2 above or any reason within our control then any Fee that has been paid will be fully refunded. We shall not be liable for any loss, damage, costs (including without limitation travel, visa or accommodation costs), expenses or other liabilities incurred by you and/or the Attendees in connection with the cancellation of the Workshop.
- Argus accepts no liability if Argus cancels the Training as a result of an event arising that is beyond the reasonable control

- of Argus or if an Attendee is unable to attend the Training for any reason, including due to adverse weather conditions or any travel disruption.
- Argus shall be entitled in its sole discretion to terminate all or any part of this Agreement immediately on written notice if you, the Company and/or any of the Attendees is in breach of any of its obligations under this Agreement and has not remedied such breach (if capable of remedy) within seven (7) days of written notice from Argus.
- Data and Privacy
- We will process each Attendees’ information in accordance with the Argus Privacy Policy available at <https://www.argusmedia.com/en/privacy-policy>.
- You hereby consent to collection by Argus of such Personal Data and you warrant that you have obtained all necessary consents from any data subjects to the use by Argus of Personal Data in accordance with this Agreement and the Privacy Policy.
- Liability
- Argus shall not be liable to you, the Company, any of the Attendees, nor to any other party, for any inaccuracies, errors, omissions, defects, or delays in respect of the Workshop or the Workshop Materials or for any loss or damage, howsoever caused and whether or not for breach of contract, negligence or otherwise and whether or not Argus is advised of the possibility of such loss or damage, including loss of profit, data, business, reputation or anticipated savings, and all indirect, incidental, special, punitive or consequential loss and damage arising in connection with this Agreement.
- Subject to clause 6.3, the total aggregate liability of Argus, its employees, Affiliates, sub-contractors and agents, to you, the Company and the Attendees or any other party arising out of or in connection with this Agreement whether the action is grounded in contract or tort (including negligence) or in any other law, and whether common law or statute, will in no Workshop exceed the total amount actually paid by the Company to Argus in respect of the Workshop.
- Nothing in this Agreement shall be construed as limiting the liability of either party for fraud or for death or personal injury caused by that party’s negligence.
- You are fully responsible and liable for any loss or damage howsoever caused by you and/or the Attendees to property (including for the avoidance of doubt the Workshop venue) or individuals at a Workshop. You shall on written demand indemnify and keep Argus fully indemnified from and against any loss, damage (including statutory damages), claims, costs and expenses (including legal and other professional costs and expenses), and liabilities suffered or incurred by Argus and/or its affiliates arising out of or in connection with the attendance of you and/or the Attendees at the Workshop or the Attendees use or redistribution of the Workshop Materials.
- It is your responsibility to arrange appropriate insurance cover for travel to and attendance at the Workshop. You are responsible for safeguarding your own property at the Workshop.
- General
- Neither party shall be in breach of this Agreement nor liable for delay in performing, or failure to perform, any of its obligations under this Agreement if such delay or failure results (or is likely to result) from Workshops, circumstances or causes beyond its reasonable control.
- You confirm that you, each Attendee, your Company, or any party with control of your company is not a Restricted Entity. Argus will have the right to terminate the Agreement immediately without penalty or liability by written notice to you in the event that you, an Attendee Delegate, your company, or any party with control of your company is or becomes a Restricted Entity. For purposes of this clause, “Restricted Entity” means (i) any individuals or entities listed against whom sanctions have been levied on by the U.S. Department of the Treasury’s Office of Foreign Assets Control (“OFAC”), the U.S. Department of State, the United Nations Security Council, the European Union, Her Majesty’s Treasury US Department of Treasury’s Office of Foreign Assets Control’s Specially Designated Nationals and Blocked Persons List (US) or the Consolidated List of Targets (UK) or any list national or international body or organisation of an equivalent nature and/or any list national or international body or organisation which updates or replaces those lists entities from time to time, and (ii) any individuals or entities with whom Argus is prohibited from dealing pursuant to any applicable sanctions regime or any other law, regulation or executive order.
- If any provision of this Agreement (in whole or in part) is found by any competent authority to be unenforceable or illegal, the remainder of the provisions shall remain in force.
- This Agreement is governed by the laws of Singapore and the parties agree to submit to the exclusive jurisdiction of the Singapore courts save that nothing shall prevent us from commencing proceedings in any court of competent jurisdiction.
